PROHIBITION

Dear Editor,

An interesting letter comes to us from the facile pen of Bishop E. G. Richardson who has made a careful study under the auspices of the Methodist church and writes under the caption of Temperance Observations in Europe. How Prohibition in the United States Looks Across the Atlantic. The subject interests us, as Prohibition pro and con is the one absorbing question in the United States today. The propaganda on the part of the Weis not only reaches across the border into Canada and across the Atlantic to Europe but much of the agitation now in the minds of the people has been generated abroad for the purpose of breaking down our barriers and furnishing a market for the alcoholic stimulants of foreign export. The sum total of all these arguments against prohibition in America is that it is a failure and fully 55 millions or one half of our population are either drunkards or tipplers and want their beer, wine and brandy.

The Bishop writes: "Soon after landing in Europe I saw a drunken man in Paris. We often hear it said that we see no drunkenness in Europe. Seeing this drunken man made me decide to keep a record of the drunken men that I saw during my visit. In the fifteen weeks that I was in Europe I traveled 10,000 miles—in France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Germany, Latvia, Estonia, Finland, Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. I saw altogether twenty-eight drunken people. Of course, I saw a great many others who showed evidence of having been drinking, but I saw twenty-eight entirely intoxicated persons. Fifteen weeks have elapsed since my return to America. I have kept a record of the intoxicated persons that I have seen in this time. I have traveled further than I did in Europe. I have been in seventeen different States. I have spent time in several of the reputedly wettest sections of the country. I have been in New York, Jersey City, Newark, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Chicago, Cincinnati, New Orleans, several cities in Florida, and in all that time I have seen two intoxicated persons. One of these was at a football game in Atlanta. I have seen three or four others that I believed had been drinking. But on the same basis of investigation that I applied in Europe, the investigation in twenty-eight in Europe to two in America in the same length of time and traveling about the same way."

PROHIBITION BUREAU IS ESTABLISHED

House Establishes Permanent Bureau of Prohibition by Overwhelming Vote

By ARTHUR HACHTEN
(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—By a vote of 196 to 4, the house today passed the bill to establish a permanent bureau of prohibition in the treasury department—first of the important measures demanded by the drys to make prohibition enforcement more effective.

Wets voted with drys in support of the bill, taking the position that they are not opposed to enforcement of the Volstead Law as long as it remains on the States books.

Oliver (D) of New York, said that if the drys were logical they would place the President directly in charge of the prohibition enforcement. Suggestions came from members that prohibition enforcement be shifted to the department of justice.

"Rebellion of the people against the prohibition law will defeat the aims of the bureau no matter where it is located," said Oliver.

Although Cramton (R) of Michigan, Cox (D) of Georgia, and other drys, insisted that a separate bureau is necessary to enforce prohibition, Garner (D) of Texas, a member of the ways and means committee which recommended the bill said:

"All this measure seems to do is to increase salaries in the prohibition unit."

All responsibility for prohibition enforcement vested in the Commissioner.

PULLMAN TO HOLD SAFETY DRIVE IN MAY

The Pullman Company will conduct its Second Annual Drive against Accidents, during the month of May.

Approximately 40,000 employees of the Company located throughout the United States will participate in a "No Accident in May Campaign."

Last year the result of the drive was most gratifying and it is hoped that the splendid record will be surpassed this year.

Think Safety, talk safety and act safely has been the slogan as advised by President E. F. Carry of the Company in his letter opening the war on carelessness.

This paper wishes the Company success. It is a humanitarian activity of this kind that assists in the prevention of sorrow entering our homes and making this world a safer and better one to live in.

Sulphur Blaze Baffles Firemen

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, April 27.—A terrific explosion of sulphur dust in the factory of the Western Sulphur Company early today caused a spectacular fire that for hours threatened to send boiling sulphur over a large area on the Oakland waterfront. Firemen in gas masks were powerless to combat the blaze, which did thousands of dollars of damage, until a Southern Pacific locomotive was rushed to their aid. Hoses coupled to the engine played live steam over the sulphur and finally extinguished the fire.

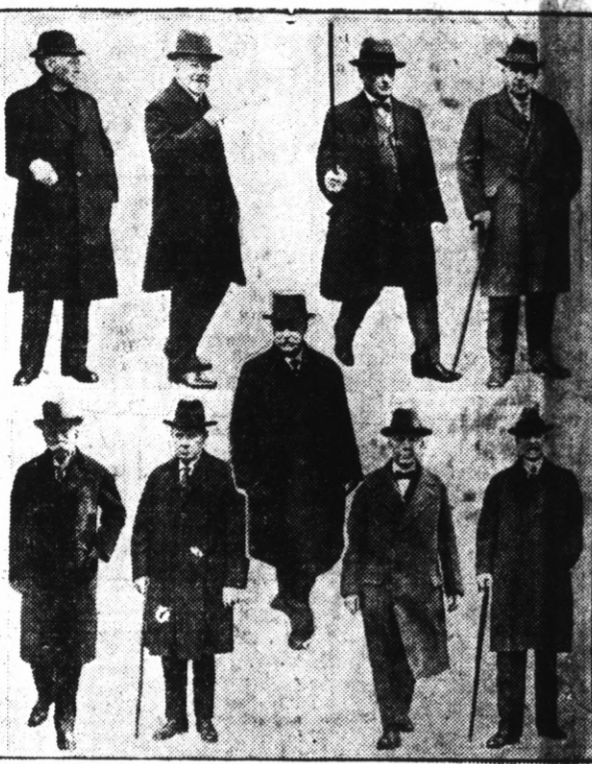

Berkeley Rejects Building Limit Law

(By Universal Service)

BERKELEY, April 27.—The aesthetics of Berkeley today lost a battle to limit the heights of Berkeley's skyscrapers. The city council, after hearings extended over many months, in which artists and University of California professors protested that tall buildings are not beautiful, voted down the proposal to limit Berkeley buildings to four stories.

Supermen Are Being Created on Pacific Coast Physicians at Oakland Conference State

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, Cal., April 27.—A race of supermen is in process of evolution on the Pacific Coast.

That is the consensus of opinion of physicians in attendance here today at the fifty-fifth annual convention of the California State medical association and affiliated bodies.

California, rich in ultra violet rays, is one of the healthiest spots on earth, according to the physicians who are attending clinics on the use of the quartz glass lamp, now used widely in treatment of many diseases.

For the same reason that the richness of violet rays in California has induced tremendous big trees, the finest fruits and flowers, the inhabitants of the western coast of America in time will be supermen as compared with natives of states beyond the Rockies.

Violet rays, the clinic members declared, are becoming one of man's greatest allies in health insurance. Through use of the quartz lamp, mankind is able to assimilate in concentrated form, the benefits of pure sunshine.

Science is agreed now, it was said, that all energy on this earth originated from the sun.

Science seems to have established that the ultra violet energy of the sun governs the chemistry of every living vegetable and animal cell. Prevailing winds across the United States are from the west.

This is the explanation for the singularly healthful climate of the west coast. Sweeping across the 4,000 miles of the Pacific ocean, the winds cleanse the atmosphere of all dust for 40,000 feet in altitude. This clear atmosphere allows greater penetration of ultra violet light to flood California and other western states.

As the winds cross the Rockies and the western deserts, they pick up dust lessening the ultra violet ray penetration.

Thus, Californians are constantly absorbing direct energy from the sun, insuring in a time a race of supermen from the physical standpoint, the physicians assert.

As substantiation of their theory, the physicians at the clinic quoted the best average specimens of American manhood came from the Pacific Coast.

The convention proper will be opened tomorrow, after the various clinics are completed. Dr. Edward N. Ewer will preside.

HOME BUILDING TAKES ANOTHER BIG JUMP HERE

All Records in Construction of Homes in This City is Broken Permits Here Indicate

No sooner is one record established in home building in Richmond, than that record is shattered by another. March established a record in the construction of new homes and April to date has exceeded in amount the high mark established last month, which also breaks all home building records in this city.

Building permits for the construction of new dwellings during the month of April total $98,150. To date twenty-nine new homes have been completed or are under construction at the present time for this month.

During the month of March thirty-one homes were constructed at the cost of $86,750, which established the record for the number of new homes and the costs of construction thereof for the five-year period beginning January 1, 1921.

Ninety-two new homes have been built in Richmond since the first of the year and the total costs of construction, irrespective of minor permits and commercial buildings amounts to $301,050. At this rate, construction of dwellings for the year will exceed one million dollars and counting the total building construction, which for the first four months exceeds $406,000, the year 1926 is expected to pass the two million dollar mark.

The figures for the first four months of the year are as follows: January, thirteen homes costing $72,150; February, thirteen homes costing $44,000; March, thirty-one homes, costing $86,750 and April, to date, twenty-nine homes costing $98,150.

The total figures of construction including minor permits and commercial permits, are as follows: January, $79,120; February, $54,915; March, $168,186 and April to date, $102,785.

Considering that only 191 homes were completed in the five year period from January 1, 1921, to January 1, 1926, home building in Richmond during the four months of this year is nearly half the amount constructed in the five year period.

This year promises to be a banner era in construction of dwellings and including other construction will establish a record, which will place Richmond among the leading cities of its size in the state.

Prefers Jail to Paying Alimony

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, Cal., April 27.—"I will fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

That was the ultimatum delivered to the world in general today by Leonard Hendrickson, 30 as he chafed upon the wall of his cell in the county jail the record of his fortieth day of imprisonment for failure to pay alimony.

Hendrickson declares he intends to set a world's record for jail service for failure to heed a court order to pay alimony.

He has fitted out his cell for a long siege and has refused to allow friends to pay the alimony for him.

"I'll stay here so long they'll get tired of feeding me," he told Judge J. D. Murphy when the Magistrate asked him today how long he intends to remain a prisoner.

Charging that her husband had given her three year old son enough wine to make him intoxicated, Mrs. Dorothy O'Connor filed suit for divorce from Thomas O'Connor at Martinez yesterday.

In her complaint Mrs. O'Connor alleges that her husband got her son drunk at the Walnut Creek home of her mother where she was visiting. She declares that when she protested O'Connor threatened to strike her.

Mrs. O'Connor declares that her husband was arrested in Los Angeles on a charge of violating the Wright act and that on another occasion he was arrested for passing a fraudulent check.

She asks to be given custody of the minor children.

SPOONERS HIT BY RULING OF CANOE LIGHTS

(By Universal Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., April 27.—Canoe spooners at University of Washington were agog following a ruling of United States Bureau of Navigation that canoes must display red lights while plying in navigable waters.

Those who availed themselves of the privacy of waters of Lake Washington for spring wooing purposes, have gone on record against the edict which has ended the dimmed light regime, and the move of navigation officials has nothing but "naughty" comment from the floating population at the university.

GIANT BLAST VICTIMS TO BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for the four victims of the blast at the Giant Power works Monday will be conducted today.

Father Joseph Porta will officiate at two of the services which will be held in the church of St. Paul in San Pablo. Services for Dominic Decourten will be conducted at 9 o'clock and interment will follow in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Funeral rites for Joe Robak will be conducted in the same church at 2 o'clock p. m. and interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. Robak is survived by two brothers, John Robak of Richmond and another brother who is expected to be present for the funeral.

Services for Robert E. Gerahy will be conducted from Wilson and Kratzer funeral chapel this evening at 8 o'clock with Rev. H. I. Oberholzer officiating.

The Pinole lodge I. O. O. F. will have charge of the services for Harry Trask. Trask was a member of the Pinole lodge and his lodge will have charge of the services as requested by him some time prior to his death. Services will be conducted in the Wilson and Kratzer chapel this evening at 7 o'clock. He is survived by a sister living in Montana.

An inquest into the death of the four men will be conducted by Coroner Charles F. Donnelly tonight.

All four bodies have been identified, but the remains of two were so badly mangled and the bits scattered that identification was rendered difficult.

As announced yesterday, the cause of the explosion will probably never be known as there were no survivors. R. H. Stratton, superintendent of the plant, states that the investigation is continuing, but that no new angles have been found. Parts of the machinery were found in the bay and only a large hole remains of what was formerly the dynamite packing plant.

The remains of the four men are at the Wilson and Kratzer funeral parlors.

Senator Wheeler Criticizes the Administration

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, April 27.—In his characteristic, terse phraseology, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, criticized President Coolidge and his cabinet and what he termed "government by lame ducks," and spoke of the "need of a great storm to sweep away all the deadwood in the government." In an address last night at the Brooklyn Jewish Center, Brooklyn.

"Never before have we had, I dare say, never again shall we have at the head of our government so subservient a man as Coolidge," said the Senator in one part of his speech. He started out by hitting "Republican economy," calling the President "Coolidge, the great economist." In another part of his address, he called him "His Majesty, Coolidge."

"I have learned that last year the sum of $400,000 was spent for the entertainment of those men the President wished to whip into line and give jobs to," said Wheeler in reference to economy. "Over $100,000 was spent for the White House alone."

Baldwin Wood Is Sought for Embezzlement

Attorney, Society Favorite Being Sought for Embezzlement Of Large Estate

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Baldwin Wood, attorney, society favorite, and polo player, who disappeared several weeks ago, after his mother and sister learned that the $450,000 estate which they had entrusted to his care had been squandered, was being sought by the police today on two charges of embezzlement.

Mrs. Freda Nagel and J. B. Larribeau were the complainants against Wood. Mrs. Nagel told Police Judge Jacks that she had given Wood bonds valued at $870 to sell and that he failed to give her the proceeds. Larribeau charged that Wood borrowed $500 from him on bonds that he subsequently sold.

At a late hour detectives reported that they had been unable to locate the former society man. It was reported that he had fled his hiding place near Los Gatos, where he went after his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Wood and his sister, Mrs. Eleanor Welty learned that their money had been dissipated.

Wood, according to his own statement, also lost $180,000 belonging to his wife and her mother, Mrs. Hyde-Smith of Honolulu.

Speaking for Wood's mother, Attorney Edward A. Cunha, said:

"Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Welty have about exhausted their patience with Baldwin Wood. He has failed to keep his promise to make a report of what he did with the money, property and bonds entrusted to his care and management. Unless he comes forward, and quickly tells us, and assists us in ascertaining the whereabouts of his father's estate, it is likely that his mother and sister will bring criminal action against him."

Attorney Hiram Johnson, Jr., representing Wood's wife and mother-in-law said that Wood had failed to keep his promise and send them a statement. On Thursday last, Johnson said, Wood called him on the long distance telephone from San Jose. Johnson said when he demanded to know why he had not sent the statement as he agreed, Wood replied: "It's no use; everything is gone."

Wood for many years was a leading figure in San Francisco and Peninsula society.

"Candy Kid" Bandit Escapes Noose As Jury Disagrees

(By Universal Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 27.—Richard Reese Whittemore, bandit leader, has temporarily escaped death at the hand of New York state. Following deliberation which lasted 29 hours and 15 minutes the Erie county jury which was asked to decree the "candy kid" guilty of murder in the alleged killing of a Buffalo bank guard during a $93,000 hold-up, reached a disagreement. The foreman of the jury came into court and said "We could never agree."

The chances of Whittemore being tried again in Buffalo for the alleged murder of Charles W. Clifton the bank guard seemed slight tonight.

Headed by Hugh Gibson, minister of Switzerland, the American staff of military and naval advisors received farewell and an expression of wishes for success from President Coolidge at the White House.

They will sail from New York on Friday. The conference will open at Geneva on May 16, already threatened by troublesome bickerings among the European nations which the Coolidge administration fears, forebode ultimate failure.

The conference at which they will represent the United States will draw up an Agenda of the disarmament topics to be considered by a final conference of world powers to be held presumably this fall.

RUSSO-GERMAN PACT PREVENTS LEAGUE ENTRY

(By Universal Service)

ROME, April 27.—The Tribune voicing the opinion of the Italian Press, declares that the result of Germany signing a pact with Russia, has rendered her admission to the League of Nations impossible. A treaty pleasing German neutrality if Russia declares war, violates article 17 of the League Covenant, the paper says, that being the clause under which the League members agree to oppose any nation outside the League which begins hostilities against a member.

The Corriere d'Italia sees in Germany's act an anti-British maneuver which will force England, as foreshadowed by Foreign Secretary Chamberlain, into an ironclad alliance with France which Italy will be bound to support because of ties of friendship.

AMERICAN SHIPBUILDING

The bureau of navigation of the department of commerce reports that on March 1 American shipyards were constructing 227 steel vessels and 46 wooden vessels.

All of these vessels presumably will be employed in the coastwise trade, the only shipping trade in which Americans can engage without severe foreign competition.

From the beginning, the coastwise trade has been protected against foreign invasion. This is the reason why such shipping is prosperous. If American ocean shipping could be protected in some way it would soon be as prosperous as the coastwise trade and American shipbuilders would be busy constructing vessels for the over-seas trade.

Free trade on the high seas, or "reciprocity on the ocean," ruined the American merchant marine years ago. It has cost the American people many billions to have any ocean merchant marine at all; and is costing them millions now every year, in a hopeless struggle with foreign competitors. The lack of protection of American shipping in competitive ocean commerce is a reproach to the business sense of the United States.—Washington Post.

VIVE LA'S FOR FRANCE

It is the object of the Washington Lafayette Institution to foster a spirit of friendliness between the United States and France. It therefore comes under the head of the good of the order to issue a book of articles and addresses calculated to inspire the utmost reverence in this country for the nation that sent the French soldier to help the colonies in their struggle for independence.

That is all very well, except for the fact that the book is made to appear at a time and in a manner designed to promote such good fellowship that the United States will say to France, "Keep your money in your pocket—this last war was on us."

GYPSIES FORSAKE CALLING

Fewer gypsies are to be found in Europe and the United States in recent years than ever before. The reason is that there are so many opportunities for light work at good pay that they have deserted the highways and gone into factories and homes. Gypsies are to be found in almost every country of the globe, but their origin never has been explained satisfactorily. Roumania has about 200,000 and Turkey a like number. Hungary and Macedonia each claiming 100,000. Russia 60,000, Spain 40,000, England 12,000, France 2,000 and the United States relatively few.—Denver News.

Some Pages from American History

By VICTOR MORGAN

VICTORY AT SARATOGA

General Burgoyne had fought two battles in the neighborhood of Saratoga and had been utterly defeated by the Americans, and his entire army, numbering about six thousand men, captured. This made a loss of about one-third of the entire British force in America.

The battle of Saratoga is considered one of the battles that have had a lasting influence on the world's history. It completely broke up the English plans for the war. It secured for us the aid of England's old and powerful enemy, France.

Not long after the victory Lafayette received word from Paris, which caused him to run to Washington. Embracing him with tears of joy he cried, "The King, my master, has acknowledged the independence of America, and will sign a treaty to help you establish it."

We had shown our ability to take care of ourselves and now France held out her hand to us.

Benjamin Franklin, our minister at Paris, the next year obtained the agreement by which the French king pledged himself to send us men, ships and money to complete the war.

Benjamin Franklin lent about fifteen thousand dollars—all he had—to the country at a time when everything looked against us. Through his influence France made us a gift of two million dollars and a loan to over three million dollars more.

It was generally acknowledged that Franklin and Washington were the two great men who carried the war through to final success—Washington by destroying enemies, Franklin by gaining friends; Washington by the sword, Franklin, like Morris, with the purse.

Why Girls Go Back Home

by CATHARINE BRODY

Copyright 1926 by Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.

"Why Girls Go Back Home" with Patry Ruth Miller is a Warner production from this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Marie Downey, innocent and pretty, misinterprets the kisses of Clifford Dudley, a matinee idol, as a proposal; he ruthlessly "frames" her to get rid of her, but the notoriety has the effect of making Marie's stage fame. She quickly rises to stardom. Meanwhile, the scandalous story gets into her home town papers. John, her former sweetheart, writes that he believes in her and will come to New York to marry her if she wants; but Marie, tasting success, puts him off.

She had been such a hit that they had decided to put it up in electric signs finally. Of course her agent had something to do with that and her personal publicity agent to whom a bit of her salary had gone ungrudgingly for some months. She had become hardened to this press agent not permitting the public to forget what she had once so ardently wished to prevent it from learning—that she had once been the fiancée, cast off in disgrace and in record time, of Clifford Dudley.

She allowed Sally and the publicity man to persuade her to build up a new personality, that of a chic, adorable, half French, conscienceless flirt, subtly but not too obviously tinged with what to the theatrical public is an irresistible perfume of elegant unavailability—not flagrant immorality, you understand.

She and Sally sat at the orange and yellow tea stand.

stand, which is like the disgusting reek of perfume in the making, but simply a sophisticated lack of conventionality. What difference in a syllable?

Thomas Burke speaks somewhere of the corners people turn in life, when they suddenly become conscious of being behind a definite portion of the road. Such a corner Marie saw when they gave up Sally's apartment and moved to a spacious duplex studio in the Fifties.

She hated to denude the walls of their pictures and leave them reproachfully bare and lonesome. Each bit of discarded furniture was a wrench. The old telephone number had become a part of her.

When she found a picture of Clifford hidden in a bureau drawer she wept. "Yeh, it's remarkable how we can keep on loving them even when they're proved saps and cads," remarked Sally sympathetically.

Marie flung the picture from her. "Oh, don't be a fool, Sally. The sight of him, even in a picture, makes me sick. But—but—" She couldn't explain it. She cried more than once. But she could not tell Sally that it was only because she was sorry that a bit of her life had been utterly lived, that one page of the book had been turned over and contents lost to all but memory. It occurred to her oddly that she had never had a picture of John. She wished she had had one. She had never even fancied herself in love for such a long time.

They left the picture of Clifford Dudley lying face downward on the floor, where the janitress found it and hung it devotedly in her living room to the utter demoralization of her husband.

The duplex studio in the fifties proved to be a very short corner indeed. By next autumn when a new theatre flashed Marie's name to the world, she, with Sally always in her train, was ready to conquer new worlds.

There were still dancing lessons, but there were no more afternoons spent in home grooming, nor were there any but the fleetest of visits to the big shops. Marie's maid attended to the grooming and the routine shopping. Her shoer than ever stockings no longer cost $5 a pair, but came in dozens of pairs and were paid for by checks which would have made the old Marie wince. Wherever she went there were stares and murmurs. Unknown girls besought her for advice on how to get on the stage, and the Sunday papers wrote columns analyzing the allure Marie Downee had for the public.

The public discussed on subways and over dinner tables and with their best friends did she really get a thousand a week or only half that much, and was it true that that millionaire who had been reported engaged to her was keeping her? And was she really French, or had she really come from the Middle West, as some people said? But it was more than likely that she was French, in view of the gossip about her, and you remember how she threw down pose Clifford Dudley, and so she must be French, because you know what these French girls are.

The final move of Marie and Sally, three years after the apartment in the Forties, left them in a house like a tiny but super-precious jewel set in the quiet, super-elegant professionalism of a quaint street in Greenwich Village that has turned its back on Washington Square and the Village both and gives a life sufficient to itself. Society women trying to turn actresses live there, and famous painters and wealthy dilettantes and writers who would not know a garret if they saw one. The cobblestoned division between the houses dispenses with any but the merest suggestion of a sidewalk. Its people do not walk, and even its windows shun the curious passerby.

At night the music of cheer came from Marie's house in the middle of the row. She had developed—perhaps it was her in-keeping father again—striking ease and interest as a hostess. Invitations to her after theatre parties were wrangled for, not only by theatrical people, but by the whole semi-smart professional crowd that has a foot in all the arts, and by people with old and new names, who would turn down an invitation to a house on Fifth avenue when Marie Downee gave a party.

Why, I could think of half a dozen men, even a bit of Sally, who'd be willing even to marry me if they could go to your parties for the rest of their lives."

Sally was as much the fixer of other people's troubles as ever. She had grown a bit bolder, and some of the wrinkles, due to worrying about engagements, road tours, the delay of alimony checks, had been ironed out. She was always sure to be a part in a Marie Downee show. Marie, on the other hand, had grown appreciably thinner. She smoked a good deal and had to remember to keep her eyes closed. But neither her complexion nor her hair nor her round chin, nor the now famous dimple and equally famous knees, had altered.

She was smoking now as she and Sally sat in the living room over the orange and yellow tea stand, smoking and looking impatient over a letter.

"Letter from home?" guessed Sally.

"Yop," said Marie briefly. She folded it and tossed it at Sally. "Read it and weep. I wish I could put that town off the map, where it belongs."

"What's all the shootin' for now?" sighed Sally. A newspaper clipping fell out of the folded letter. She read it, "Tch-tch-ing."

Winesville was not letting Marie forget. Three years meat in its life. But Marie Downee (who, the editor always added mockingly, was better known to her home town with a "y"), as a great subject for gossip meant a lot. This latest story was an exaggerated account of her engagement to another millionaire, with faint innuendoes.

"It is said that Mr. Clarke's first gift to his fiancée, who is to be affianced by this time, because of her well known habit of breaking engagements in record time, was a well stocked cellar. He would not let her want!"

Sally clutched her hair and went on to the letter.

"You don't seem to care for your own reputation, but you might think of your father's. The lady from the W. C. T. U. was down to see me about this cellar that the paper says a millionaire gave you. She said she wouldn't believe it of a daughter of mine, when I've always been a teetotaler, and your mother was a member of the W. C. T. U. She asked me to use my influence, and I wrote to ask you to please think of your father if you don't care what you do yourself. You might remember how I care. It breaks my heart to think of you doing those things. No girl could have a whole house alone. There's something wrong in it. Even if your friend, Miss Short, lives with you I do not like what you write about her—a divorced woman. You know I do not believe in divorce Marie."

PROFESSOR NOODLE

Dear Professor:

When we go to the opera my husband falls asleep. The first notes of the orchestra produce a slumber deep. The shrill soprano's highest C, the basso's deepest roars don't bother his tranquility—he slumbers on and snores. I can't describe my grief to you. I fear my heart will break. Now tell me, please, what can I do to make him stay awake?
Mrs. Ache

Tales of Troubadours

EVIDENTLY modesty was not necessary in troubadouring in the early days, for Raimbaut III, Count of Orange, did not exactly hate himself when he was announced to the world that "net since Eve ate the apple and there been a poet who could compete in skill with him."

Whether the world believed it or not it is evident that Raimbaut, Count of Orange, thought that he was the original male vamp for he fell in love with him and accompanied him on his travels as he journeyed from court to court.

The two composed many poems and songs, but notwithstanding the poet's modest admission that he was the world's finest poet, critics say that Raimbaut, who was one of the first female troubadours, actually wrote better poetry and songs than did Raimbaut, her lover.

She was undoubtedly the most eminent poetess of her time but while she might have been the finest poetess since Adam lost the famous apple, she left it to others to say so.

This pair of lovers actually did much to develop song and poetry in their section of the world and many interesting love songs and

PONY EXPRESS IS COMING TO THE RICHMOND

The widely heralded and long expected western special, "The Pony Express," which James Cruze directed for Paramount, with a brilliant cast of several thousand players, headed by Betty Compson, Ricardo Cortez, Ernest Torrence and Wallace Beery, will make its local debut at the Richmond Theatre today.

This mighty frontier epic masterpiece gives Cruze the unique distinction of producing the only photoplay that seriously threatens the supremacy heretofore maintained by his first great epic, "The Covered Wagon." And there is much more to these two classics than is common.

Like its distinguished predecessor, "The Pony Express" is a powerful story combining historical fact with the element of romance that characterized the West's pioneer days. But although its climax is as tremendous, and its ending as emotional and beautiful as that of "The Covered Wagon," its love theme is more appealing, its background more fascinating, and its dramatic episodes more startling, more thrilling and more colorful.

The action of the plot is laid in 1860, in the dark days just before the Civil War, and deals with the struggle between North and South to gain control of California with its prestige and enormous resources of gold. In this bitter political contest, with its plotting and intrigue, gun-fighting and bloodshed, the crack riders of the Pony Express played a significant and important part.

Besides the heroic achievements of the Pony Express, the production vividly and authentically depicts the violent yet picturesque life of the primitive West. Of the many historical characters who are portrayed, particular interest attaches to the youthful Mark Twain, the striding Buffalo Bill and the famous Mormon leader, Brigham Young.

"Crizma" the screen magazine will be screened on the same program.

The Million Dollar Girl

Dorothy Mackall who was given a million dollars to spend in "Joanna" which comes to the screen of the California Theatre for two days starting today.

California Film Has Plot With Original Idea

A question of sociology, long a subject of deep inquiry among studious minds, comes today and tomorrow to the screen of the California Theatre under the title of "Joanna" featuring Dorothy Mackall and Jack Mulhall.

The question is whether a modern girl of sound moral outlook can overcome temptation if provided with the luxuries of wealth. To settle this question a hamster and a sportsman provide a poor but attractive dress model with a million dollars. She doesn't know who are her benefactors and is instructed not to inquire. But she is permitted to spend the money as she chooses.

The development of the plot from this angle is reported by those who have already seen the film to be highly interesting and absolutely true to life.

Edwin Carewe directed and produced "Joanna" for First National in the supporting cast are Paul Nicholson, George Fawcett, Lillian Langdon, John T. Murray, Edwards Davis, Bob Hart and two new comers, Dolores del Rio and Rita Carewe, daughter of the producer.

Other features on the same program include "The Mad Racer," an Earle Foxe comedy; "Daisy Bell," a Ko-Ko song car-tune; "International News"; Larry Canelo, at the organ.

Oakland Wants the Victory Highway Route Changed

Oakland has refused to accept the proposal of the officials of the Victory Highway that the route of this highway shall lead into Oakland by the Tunnel road through Contra Costa county. Oakland proposes a route that shall lead through Shepard Canyon.

The plan was endorsed when the Sequoia and Canyon Community Council met at Canyon Pavilion on Saturday night. James P. Montgomery, chairman of the meeting, held that the route through Shepard canyon was of extreme importance and that this route would be a short cut into the heart of Oakland.

According to the Oaklanders the Tunnel road would not bring the people into Oakland but that the proposed route would bring them into the heart of the downtown section of the East Bay city.

U. S. Mission Prepares For Arms Parley

stood to have instructed them to law down an Agenda which will compel the powers of Europe to consider seriously a reduction of their vast armies at the major conference to follow.

President Coolidge is known to be convinced that general disarmament will be a matter of the remote future until the European nations cut to the bone the huge standing armies which he regards as a menace to peace as well as saddling a heavy burden of expense upon the backs of the people.

Military disarmament must be made abroad, President Coolidge believes, because the United States' land forces are now, in comparison to population, about the smallest in the world. If they can effect a satisfactory reduction of armies, he would like to invite them to Washington to consider further limitation of naval forces.

Advices reaching diplomatic circles here cause grave doubt of the success of the parleys. France is anxious to maintain her large land forces and England and Japan are insisting upon retention of their naval fleets, it is understood. The administration feels that the conferring nations will adopt such a wholesale Agenda of disarmament topics that actual disarmament will be lost in the maze.

Prior to their departure, Secretary of State Kellogg received a letter from the National League of Voters expressing the hope that the venture will be productive of real disarmament. The league said there is undoubtedly "deep and widespread sentiment throughout the country" for international cooperation to prevent war.

No Sleeping Jurors in Court With These New Amplifiers

Installing Amplifiers in Brooklyn Court Room.
Note Microphone at Witness Stand.

One of the great difficulties with jury trial has been that the jurors have frequently had difficulty in hearing all the proceedings of the court. The clear, strong voice has had an advantage over the low, weak voice. But all will be equal in the criminal part of the Brooklyn Supreme Court where a Public Address System has been installed with a microphone before the witness stand and sound projectors over the jury box.

Court proceedings can be pushed much more speedily when the words of a witness are heard plainly the first time and the need for repetition is avoided. And the jury can focus its attention on the issues without straining after the softly spoken words of a bashful witness.

The Public Address System makes use of vacuum tube amplifiers which amplify the sounds picked up by the microphone and redistribute them through projectors. The system is a development of the Western Electric Company and Bell Telephone Laboratories, and the present application in the Brooklyn Court is the first time it has served in the cause of Law and Justice.

sioner of Internal Revenue is transferred to the Secretary of the Treasury under the bill.

The secretary is in turn authorized to delegate duties to a commissioner of prohibition heading the new bureau at a salary of $8,000 a year.

Prohibition enforcement agents would be required to pass Civil Service examinations. Employees now in the service outside of Civil Service regulations would be given six months to pass an examination.

Provision also is made for a Separate Customs Bureau in the treasury department. At present customs work is carried on in a division under an assistant secretary of the treasury.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue is over-burdened with responsibility in having to collect the taxes and enforce prohibition laws, the dyes argue.

"Through the plan embraced in the bill the Treasury Secretary would be able to delegate responsibility for enforcing various features of the prohibition laws to the Coast Guard, Customs and prohibition unit," said Cramton.

Secretary Mellon and General Andrews both had recommended adoption of the bill. Cramton pointed out.

La Guardia offered an amendment to prevent prohibition administrators receiving salaries from private concerns while on the government pay roll. This was rejected.

Frederick Baird, enforcement director at Pittsburgh, was said by him to be receiving $12,000 a year from a railroad company.

"I favor this bill, because it will strengthen prohibition enforcement through centralized control and the people will then rise and demand that the law be amended," declared Sabath (R) of Illinois.

Consideration of which course to pursue in regard to Buckner will be given by dry leaders at a meeting to be held by them here this week to prepare final briefs for presentation to the Senate prohibition investigating committee. Ten days were given by the committee to wet and dry for filing supplemental briefs. Full responsibility for Buckner continuing in office rests with the Attorney General, since he comes under the jurisdiction of the Justice department, the dyes say.

A protest may be filed by the dry organization with Attorney General Sargent against Buckner, it was indicated.

McCoy Hearing Is Postponed

The primary hearing of Barney McCoy of Crockett, charged with manslaughter, in connection with the death of Gus Erickson of El Cerrito, who was run down by a hit-and-run driver on the night of April 19, and died as a result of injuries sustained, has been postponed to permit the prosecution to investigate further.

McCoy has continually maintained ignorance of the accident, claiming that he does not remember having hit anything or anyone on the night of the accident. He was arrested in a car similar to the one described as having struck Erickson.

Santa Ysabel Claims Are Rejected by Mexico and Brazil

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Rejection of the Santa Ysabel claims by the Brazilian and Mexican members of the special claims commission in Mexico City was regarded here today as a violation of the understanding which preceded American recognition of Mexico three years ago.

The Santa Ysabel claims were among several growing out of the killing of Americans and great damage to their property in the course of Mexican revolutionary outbreaks for looting the fall of the Porfirio Diaz regime.

In the absence of official reports from Judge E. B. Ferry, American member of the commission or from the American Embassy at Mexico City, officials here declined to discuss what policy will be adopted by the United States with reference to the action of the Brazilian-Mexican membership of the commission.

Car Speeds 172 M.P.H. Breaking All Mile Records

(By Universal Service)
LONDON, April 27.—Flashing along at the rate of 172 miles an hour, J. G. Parri Thomas today easily smashed all existing automobile speed records for a straight mile. Thomas drove a 400 horse power machine known as a "Babs" and achieved the result on a stretch of sand along the Welsh coast.

The "Babs" traveled with streaks of fame coming from its immense exhaust pipe and with cascades of water in its wake. Owing to the failure of the automobile lubrication, Thomas had to use a hand pump and thus was forced to steer his monster car with one hand. He skidded several times, but straightened the car out without any mishaps.

BRITISH OPEN TITLE

All eyes will be turned upon England this summer when a group of America's best golfers will journey to that country in an effort to annex the British open championship title. The United States now holds the title but it appears that he will not make the trip. MacDonald Smith, California's foremost golfer declared that he will not enter any matches in England because of the way the gallery acted last year when he entered the matches. The United States will have a wonderful collection of players who will enter the championship fight in spite of these who have stated that they will not attend.

DETROIT'S GOLF

In the opening day of the California State Medical association's play at the Sequoia links on Monday Dr. Rodrick O'Connor won low gross honors when he turned in a card of 87-10-73. Yesterday's play was continued at the Claremont links.

ESPINOSA LEADS PRO PLAY

In the northern professional golf title play at the Presidio on Monday, Abe Espinosa won the qualifying medal play with a card of 146. Mark Fry, the younger of the Fry brothers followed Abe in the rounds. Joe Novack and Earl Vagle tied for third place with cards of 143.

TIGER FLOWERS

Tiger Flowers seems to have hit back too. Before it was Harry Greb who held out on the proposition of staging a fight with Flowers and now the gentleman of color seems to be unwilling to meet Greb for a title bout. It seems like a case of one's afraid and the other won't do it.

PORTLAND BEAVERS

The Portland Beavers under manager Ernie Johnson seems to be making a desperate attempt to bring the team to the head of the list. Yesterday the Beavers bought Ray Linger, pitcher, from the Kansas City American Association team, one of the best pitchers in that league.

CHARLIE HOFF

In an enquiry about the expense accounts of Charlie Hoff, champion Norwegian pole vaulter, the record smasher was cleared of all charges of professionalism. The A. A. For Second Time Grim Death Stakes in Wake Of His Boxing Contest

Here is Bud Taylor, bantam-weight boxer of Terre Haute, whose blows in a contest April 19, at Milwaukee, Wis., caused the death of Senoio Moldez, Filipino fighter. At the conclusion of the contest physicians found Senoio in a groggy condition although his heart and pulse were normal. Senoio was put to bed at his hotel and was found dead in the morning. The death of Senoio marks the second tragic affair in which Bud Taylor has figured. On January 13, 1925, Frankie Jerome of New York died from the effects of a knockout at the hands of Taylor delivered two days before. Taylor has been exonerated of all blame for both deaths.

Miles, Only 18, Winner Of Boston Marathon 4 Minutes Under Record

John C. Miles, an unknown youth from Sidney Mines, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, conquered the most expert of athletic critics by winning the thirtieth annual Boston Marathon in 2 hours, 29 minutes, 40 1-5 seconds, world's record set by Clarence De Mar in 1924. He finished 1000 yards ahead of Albin Steenroos, Finland Olympic champion, who also beat the old record. Miles is the son of a Welsh pugilist, who emigrated to Nova Scotia when John was a babe in arms. His father supervised his training.

Selfishness Blamed By Rabbi Coffee for Trouble in World

Lack of education in the broader sense and selfishness were blamed for conditions by Rabbi H. I. Coffee, of Temple Sinai, Oakland, in his address: "What's Wrong With the World," delivered at the luncheon of the Richmond Lion's club yesterday.

Failure to cooperate for the betterment of the world because of selfishness caused many of the evils which confront the world today, declared Rabbi Coffee. Illustrations from his own experiences were used by Rabbi Coffee to illustrate his remarks.

Assemblyman R. Easley spoke on the need for more water facilities in upper Contra Costa County. A report on the success of the Ladies Night entertainment at the Athens Athletic club was given.

President Wilbur Pierce was the chairman of the meeting and a program consisting of a clarinet solo by E. C. Robbins and a monologue by "Doc" McIntyre was presented. A committee composed of E. J. Garrard, J. O. Ford, Ward MacLacken, J. I. Collins, and J. P. Strom was appointed to make arrangements for the organization of the Concord Lion's club.

PETTING IS APPROVED BY PSYCHIATRIST

(By Universal Service)

By HOMER THOMAS

OAKLAND, April 27.—On with the petting party!

Acting as standard bearer for the younger generation, Dr. Thomas Lee Little, official psychiatrist of San Diego county and delegate to the 55th annual convention of the California state medical association here today opened a determined campaign to do away with the prohibitions which he asserts are responsible for the troubles of this modern age.

Pet and don't make the mistake of hasty marriages is the panacea for the divorce evil.

"Love is the only position of persons on the same mental plane," psychiatrist told the delegates, "and just as soon as they discover they are not on the same plane they stop."

"Familiarity often accomplishes this. That is why long engagements stop the divorce evil. The more people not on the same mental level know each other the less they want to marry."

"If after marriage they discover they are not on the same mental plane then they turn to divorce."

"Let your young men and young women get their bumps and their experiences. The girl who has been taught to go after what she wants is not sold on a petting party for her, there is no danger in it but by prohibiting our boys and girls to have their natural fun in the parlor we are responsible for the clandestine automobile parties."

No Safety Clause In French Debt Settlement Plan

(By Universal Service)

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Blunt notice was served on France in the Senate today that any "Safety Clause" in the French debt agreement would be rejected by the American debt commission and by congress.

"I shall not report any kind of settlement with any safety clause in any settlement that we make with France," declared Senator Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and a member of the American debt commission.

Smoot's association was made in response to a direct challenge by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, based upon a London dispatch to the New York American that Premier Briand had informed the French Senate of the existence of a secret understanding to reopen the debt settlement after ratification if it should be found burdensome to France.

"The world seems to be out all over the world that there has been a secret agreement with France," commented Reed.

When Smoot protested in a low voice that did not carry to the press gallery, Reed continued:

"I do not think the Senator has been in on the agreement. I think it was made by Secretary Mellon, and he tells the boys what to do."

At this point Reed announced that when the French debt settlement came before the Senate for ratification he would demand that France cede to the United States her possessions in the West Indies, which he declared are "a constant menace to the Panama Canal."

BRITISH MINE LEADER GETS DEATH THREAT

(By Universal Service)

By ROBERT J. PREW

LONDON, April 27.—The epidemic of anonymous threats from which people in the public eye in England have been suffering, culminated tonight with a warning of coming assassination addressed to A. J. Cook, leader of the miners in the impending national coal stoppage.

"We have solemnly sworn that you shall not live to see the result of your work," said the death threat to Cook, who has been carrying on the negotiations to prevent the strike threatened for May 1.

"Threats by the British Fascists or others will not deter me in my work," declared Cook.

Scotland Yard is now specially guarding three boys who are threatened with kidnapping. The "British Communist" who recently threatened to abduct the young Lord Townshend under his mother paid $25,000, has now addressed similar letters to Lord and Lady Churston, mentioning their son, John R. Varde-Bulter, 11.

Lord Churston today conferred with Scotland Yard officials when he learned that the same writer also made his kidnapping threat to a prominent business man.

Mrs. J. F. Cassidy has returned from a trip to Los Angeles. While there she visited with her son, Irwin Cassidy, who is studying dancing for a stage career.

En"roll" in the P.A. army

JOIN UP with the happy crowd who roll their own cigarettes with this really superior tobacco—Prince Albert. You'll get more deep-down satisfaction out of this tobacco than any you ever tried for cigarettes. P. A. is crimp-cut and stays put. Doesn't blow away while you're rolling it.

A cigarette made with P. A. not only rolls easier, but it burns better. And what a wonderful taste it has! Cool as a process-server. Sweet as a peach, sun-ripened on the tree. Fragrant as locust-blossoms. Fragrant in the tin or bag, and fragrant as you smoke it. You sure will like these cigarettes.

You'll like the way P. A. treats your tongue. Not a bite or a parch in a ton of Prince Albert. Just cool contentment, morning till midnight—no matter how many cigarettes you smoke. The Prince Albert process cut out bite and parch right at the beginning; put a padlock on tongue-torture for keeps.

Get yourself a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of Prince Albert today and get going with some grand, home-rolled cigarettes. Then—if you like a pipe—try a load of this same wonderful tobacco. Any way you smoke it, P. A. will give you more pleasure to the cubic inch than you ever thought possible.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

Chronic Catarrh Relieved

Hearing Restored
Elmhurst, April 9, 1926.
During all my life I had suffered from Catarrh, more or less. A few months ago it became so bad that my eyes and head ached terribly and I could not hear well in either ear. Although I tried many treatments and doctors, I got no benefit whatever. I was told that I must have an operation for Adenoids and Tonsils. Fortunately, however, I instead, I came to the Fong Wan Herb Co. for treatment. After two weeks all my complaints were gone. I have nowhere else found remedies comparable with the Fong Wan Herbs.

Gall Bladder Troubles Gone!
To Whom It May Concern:
For over a year I had trouble in my gall bladder, pain on my right side, vomiting and a general rundown condition. On February 23rd of this year I had an attack of appendicitis, the pain of which was so severe that I could not sleep at night. I came to the Chew & Chew Herb Co. and after taking one dose of herbs I was greatly relieved. I continued to take the herbs for a few more weeks and I am all well now. March 14, 1926.

Legislation stopped hydraulic mining in California. Thus, construction work done by pioneers in their industry became of no immediate value. The inventive minds of Westerners, however, conceived the idea of harnessing the waters used by the miners for the generation of electrical energy.

From this—thru business initiative and enterprise—there has been developed for you in California an industry, generating and distributing electric energy.

California Power Companies, in their management, operation and ability to serve the many instead of the few, and at a price within the reach of all, have established for this State a position pre-eminent.
